

Jobs, Companies, and Our Future Economy!

You are invited to a community workshop . . .

- What are the major economic issues facing Augusta County?
- How does changing technology, globalization, and labor affect jobs and companies in the County?
- Can we generate the opportunities needed to keep our children from moving away in order to make a living?

Augusta County residents and businesses are invited to attend one of three Community Workshops being held in conjunction with the development of an Economic Development Strategic Plan for the County. The workshops are designed to facilitate your understanding of economic development and local trends as well as introduce the strategic planning process.

Each presentation will be followed by an interactive discussion of the Augusta County economy, community change, and the types of jobs and companies that should be considered to achieve future prosperity.

Plan on attending one of the workshops listed below, and bring your middle and high school-aged children... it's about their future!
