Digital Logger

Radio transmissions and telephone conversations are a permanent indispensable source for criminal investigations, internal investigations, training, and audit for the Augusta County Emergency Communications Center.

All telephone lines and radio frequencies are digitally recorded on a twenty-four hour basis. The original of all radio and telephone transmissions are stored in a secured location and kept for a minimum of 90 days.

The Chief Officer for a Fire-Rescue agency, are the only authorized Emergency Service personnel that can request to monitor radio traffic or a telephone conversation for an incident involving their organization.
